Itinerary:

Day 1: Bangkok

Upon your arrival in Bangkok, check in to the 4-star Furama Silom Bangkok for one night at leisure. Silom is home to Bangkok's night scene, so why not take a walk around town and experience the night life for yourself. There are also plenty of shops and restaurants nearby, so you can definitely do a bit of both - eating and shopping! Or why not witness some sensational city views from the Furama Silom's pool terrace? You can even sit back and watch the golden sunset over Bangkok City. Alternatively, ask us about optional tours in Bangkok.

Day 2: Bangkok – Hua Hin (Breakfast & Lunch)

Around 7:00am, we will begin our first journey to Thonburi, crossing the Chao Phraya River passing salt farms on the way. Home to the famous Temple of the Dawn (Wat Arun), Thonburi is Thailand's former capital. This city boasts traditional, hidden structures, as well as small waterways which blend past the neighbourhood tuk tuks and temples. Continue on to Damnern Saduak, which homes one of the famous floating markets. Village people have long-tailed boats as stalls here, selling fruit, spices, cooked street food and many more local products. We will then head to Phetchaburi for some lunch at a local restaurant. After lunch, the drive continues towards Cha Am, and en route we will stop over at Phra Nakhon Khiri Palace. This palace has a superior presence as it is perched on a high hill. It can be seen from afar as travellers approach the city. Also visit the Maruekhathaiyawan Palace by the sea which was built in 1923 of golden teak wood by King Vajiravudh (Rama VI) and used as a summer retreat. Afterwards you will be taken to the City Beach Resort, Hua Hin (deluxe room) for an afternoon at leisure. This resort is conveniently located close to many attractions, including the Hua Hin Shopping Mall, Thailand's oldest golf course, the gorgeous Hua Hin beach and many restaurants and bars, so you can go and explore if you wish, or alternatively, sit back and relax at the hotel's pool side. Optional : During your free time you are also welcome to visit the Hua Hin Night Market with a pedicab ride (trishaw). This is a fantastic experience to soak up the cultural atmosphere.

Day 3: Hua Hin – Chumphon (Breakfast & Lunch)

Today we will depart Cha Am and drive to Hua Hin, which boasts bustling markets, tasty street food, gorgeous beaches and an overall cosmopolitan environment. We will also be visiting Pran Buri, a quiet fishing village and beach town with long, tranquil stretches of beautiful beach. We will also be climbing 395 steps right to the top of Khao Chong Krajok, also known as the 'Mirror Mountain' where you can catch phenomenal views of the coastline. We will stop for some lunch at a restaurant by the seaside. After, we will continue our drive southwards, perhaps stopping for some fresh and tasty pineapples before we arrive at Chumphon.
